Focus of the Month-

In this digital age, educational technologies have a significant impact on learning and teaching. As teachers, we very much like to build the fundamental competencies such as literacy, thinking skills, problem-solving skills, collaboration skills in students so that they can become successful learners one day.

We all know that learning can take place at any time, in any place, by any path and at any pace. But how can we make effective learning really happen? In the book, Unplugging the Classroom: Teaching with Technologies to Promote Students' Lifelong Learning, there are practical teaching approaches with suggested learning activities, and pedagogical resources across different key learning areas to develop skills and strategies required by students for their lifelong learning. If you want to find out more about how technologies could be utilized to facilitate students' learning, please visit our website and read the e-book.
